One Twenty Eight HAZELTON AVENUE

Private Residences

AN INVITATION to EXPERIENCE BEAUTY

LIGHT

The Pantheon, built in 118-128 AD in Rome, Italy

The beauty of a certain slant of light has captivated people from the beginning of time. Streaming across a room, light inspires awe and creates a sense of well-being. The windows in residences at 128 Hazelton, a boutique midrise in Yorkville, are designed to be large for this reason. With soundproofing and UV-protection, they allow in light at different times of day and offer expansive views over the heritage midtown neighbourhood.

HOSPITALITY

Venice Simplon Orient Express, Luxury Train

People often think of beauty as something you see in art or architecture. That's true, of course. But we also believe that beauty can be found in how people treat others. The hospitality at 128 Hazelton rivals that of five-star hotels. A parking valet and 24-7 concierge look after – and anticipate – your every need to make your home a sanctuary of convenience and restorative calm.

RARE

The Last of Its Kind in Toronto's Yorkville Neighbourhood

You can live in the heart of North America's fourth largest city, right around the corner from world-renowned Bloor Street shopping, and feel as though you're part of a village community. Yorkville, a heritage neighbourhood of 19th century architecture, is at capacity for development. Which is why 128 Hazelton Private Residences is a rare real estate opportunity to live on the most valuable street in the area. With up to 20 custom-designed residences, the boutique building is inspired by a love of beauty.

We invite you to make an appointment to visit the Presentation Gallery at 126 Hazelton Avenue.
